SASS MEANS CLASS

SASS IRISES—1934

The superiority of Sass Irises has been thoroughly demonstrated by numerous awards to them culminating in the Dykes Medal for 1932 to Mr. H. P. Sass' Rameses.

The points of superiority that distinguish Sass Irises are, first of all, color. Other distinguishing qualities are complete hardiness, vigor of growth, freedom of bloom and texture. Grown under the rigorous conditions of Nebraska's hot sun and drying winds, an iris must be of the firmest texture to withstand them. Many fine Irises which are lacking in substance cannot be grown under Nebraska conditions. A Sass Iris will always stand up under any weather conditions.

The Sass Brothers are the leading breeders of intermediate irises and have developed this early blooming class into a range of color, size and quality of bloom that rivals the tall bearded class. They have also worked extensively and have developed qualities of Dwarf Irises of the highest quality and have now in process of development a series of Fall Blooming Irises.

NEW TYPE OF IRISES

These are hybrids between the Oncocyclus hybrids and Dwarf Bearded hybrids. There are five in the series so far, more are coming on. This is a particular difficult cross, owing to the sterility existing so often between these two types. They range in height from six to sixteen inches and bloom with the Dwarf Bearded and early intermediates.

Combining the unusual coloring of the huge Oncocyclus and the characteristic signal patch on the falls with Pumila hybrid coloring has produced color combinations unlike any previous known in thoroughly hardy, vigorous growing irises. These new iris are ironic and need no further winter protection. The foliage is persistent all season, remaining fresh and green from early spring until hard freezing. The colors are of an opalescent quality which it is impossible to convey adequately by description. The following are offered:

BALROUDOUR (OP No. 32-1) (Jacob Sass, 1933)—S Pallid soft bluish violet. F. and stigmas deep olive buff darkening to dark olive buff toward center with an olive yellow blotch on the haft and reddish brown stripes in the throat. Light blue beard, tipped brownish yellow. An exquisite color combination, reversing the unusual combination of bronzy standards and blue toned falls. It has two flowered stems 12 to 15 inches tall. Exceptionally vigorous grower $1.00

BLUE TOPAZ (OP No. 2) (Jacob Sass, 1933)—A striking combination of blue, brown, and green of delicate blending. S. and stigmas pale violet blue with darker sheen. Style branches the same color tinted green. F, pale violet blue with a blotch at half overlaid with warm blackish brown. Stripes of same coloring on haft. Brown beard tipped darker brown. Two medium sized blooms on 12 to 15-inch stems..... $1.00

GRAY CLOUR (OP No. 32-2) (Jacob Sass, 1933)—This is a subtle blend of blue, gray, red, green, and brown. S, pale campanula blue with brownish red stripes at the base and a brown purple sheen through the center of the flower. F and stigmas dawn gray with brown purple stripes on the haft merging into a brown purple blotch at the end of the beard. Green stripes extend from the blotch to the edge of the falls. Beard white tipped with brown and yellow. Two medium sized blooms on foot high stems..... $1.00

STORMY DAWN (OP No. 31-1) (Jacob Sass, 1933) — Violet, blue, red-brown, green, and yellow mingle in the coloring of a storm cloud with the sun breaking through it at dawn which suggested the name. S pallid soft blue violet darker at base with a reddish brown sheen. F and stigmas pale neropalin blue with brown stripes on the haft, forming a blotch one-half by three-quarters of an inch at the end of the beard. The falls have an overlay of yellowish green with green stripes from the blotch to the edge of the falls, which flare. Gray beard tipped brown and yellow. Medium to large flowers on 6 to 10-inch stems $6.00

VELVO (OP No. 1) (Jacob Sass, 1933)—The darkest and richest of this class. S, pleroma violet darkening to Haematoxylin violet at midrib. Stigmas pleroma violet veined Haematoxylin violet. F, velvety dark Madder violet overlaid red, margin of falls, pleroma violet. Small black blotch at the end of the bronzy brown beard. One to two flowers on 6 to 8-inch stems. Stock limited $7.50
